DEDICATION

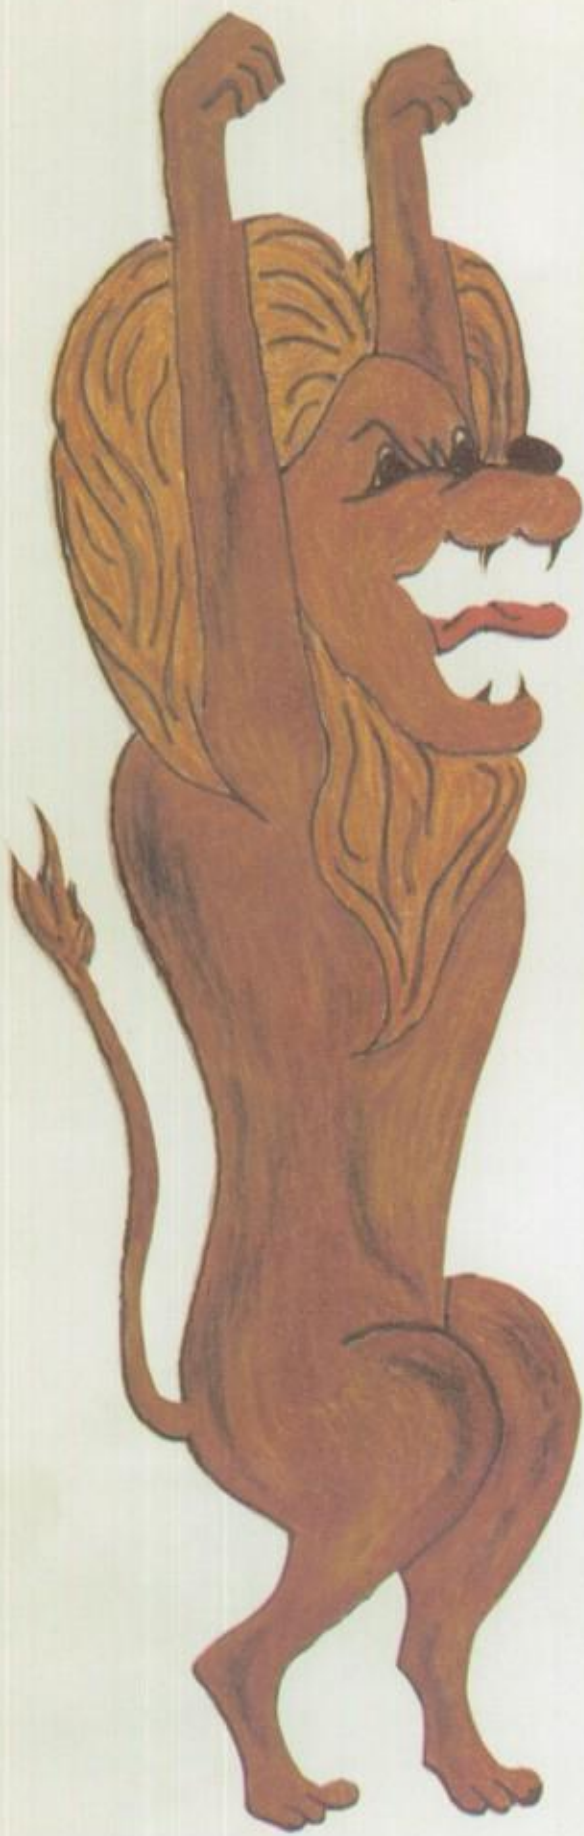

CONGRATULATIONS

The SOUND OF MUSIC vibrates through the halls of Castleberry continually due to the unlimited and untiring efforts of its own MUSIC MAN. From OKLAHOMA to the SOUTH PACIFIC he entertains and enchants thousands as his choirs literally tour the four corners of the earth. No FIDLER ON THE ROOF holds aught to his FAIR LADY, his adorable mother; however, POLLY and MAME do offer excellent challenges. He is on the continuous CAROUSEL as his choirs give performances daily the entire year. To Castleberry he is one in a million who brings the 1776 type to acclaim and honor to the school with his twenty-three years of service. The beat of the LOWER DRUM SONG sets his daily pace as he successfully presents renowned Broadway musicals to overflowing crowds annually. To him respect, gratitude, and love are bestowed, and the highest tribute is offered: the dedication of the 1976 Bicentennial Edition of CASTLEVIEWS.

MR. CHARLES DUKE

LEADERSHIP is a history-making quality as evidenced by its role in the United States' fight for independence. One of the major purposes of clubs at Castleberry High School is the development of this quality - leadership. Without this leadership, success and accomplishments in high school would be less attainable.

I

INVOLVEMENT, an outgrowth of initiative, interest and participation, is most vividly portrayed in sports. Athletes at Castleberry work daily in their various sports in order to give of themselves for the betterment of Castleberry as a whole.

O

OBEDIENCE is a virtue found in each of the students in this section. Obedience not only to others, but also an obedience from within, has brought honors to these outstanding students for their academic lives as well as their social acceptance.

N

NARRATION plays an important role in the life of any teacher. Teachers at Castleberry recite to their students information which forms the students into well-rounded and versatile adults.

S

SCHOLARSHIP is often associated with book knowledge alone. A learned person also has the experience of enjoying friendships, suffering failures, having good times, and sharing himself. Every person in high school can be considered a scholar because each matures both mentally and socially.

Who runs Castleberry High School . . .

"The parents of the students. As a group they have a big voice in everything."

JACQUELINE FARIAS

"Mr. Barnes"

SANDRA TRAMMELL

"I think the students who are truly interested in our school and the teachers who really have a deep concern for the students at CHS make Castleberry what it is. The people who don't care make it difficult for the majority who do care."

KEELY KIZER

"Administration"

DONNA McMILLIAN

"The students."

KARRIE HOLDER

What changes would you like to see at C.H.S. . . .

"Dr. Peppers in the drink machines."
TAMMY KASKA

"Changes I would like to see in Castleberry are many. The most important would be the acceptance of open campus."

ROBERT WUNDERLICH

"I would like to see the students have a greater respect for each other and their teachers . . . to show that they care about what happens in our school."

LINDA DAVIDSON

"Stage band a credit. It takes too much work for no credit."

RICHARD CAUDILL

"None! I feel our school is far more superior than any others in our area."

SONDRA BANFIELD

What is Homecoming

• • •

"A heavy shoulder."

VICKI WHITE

"A terrible waste of money."

CARY CRAGER

"A forty dollar donation to your favorite florist."

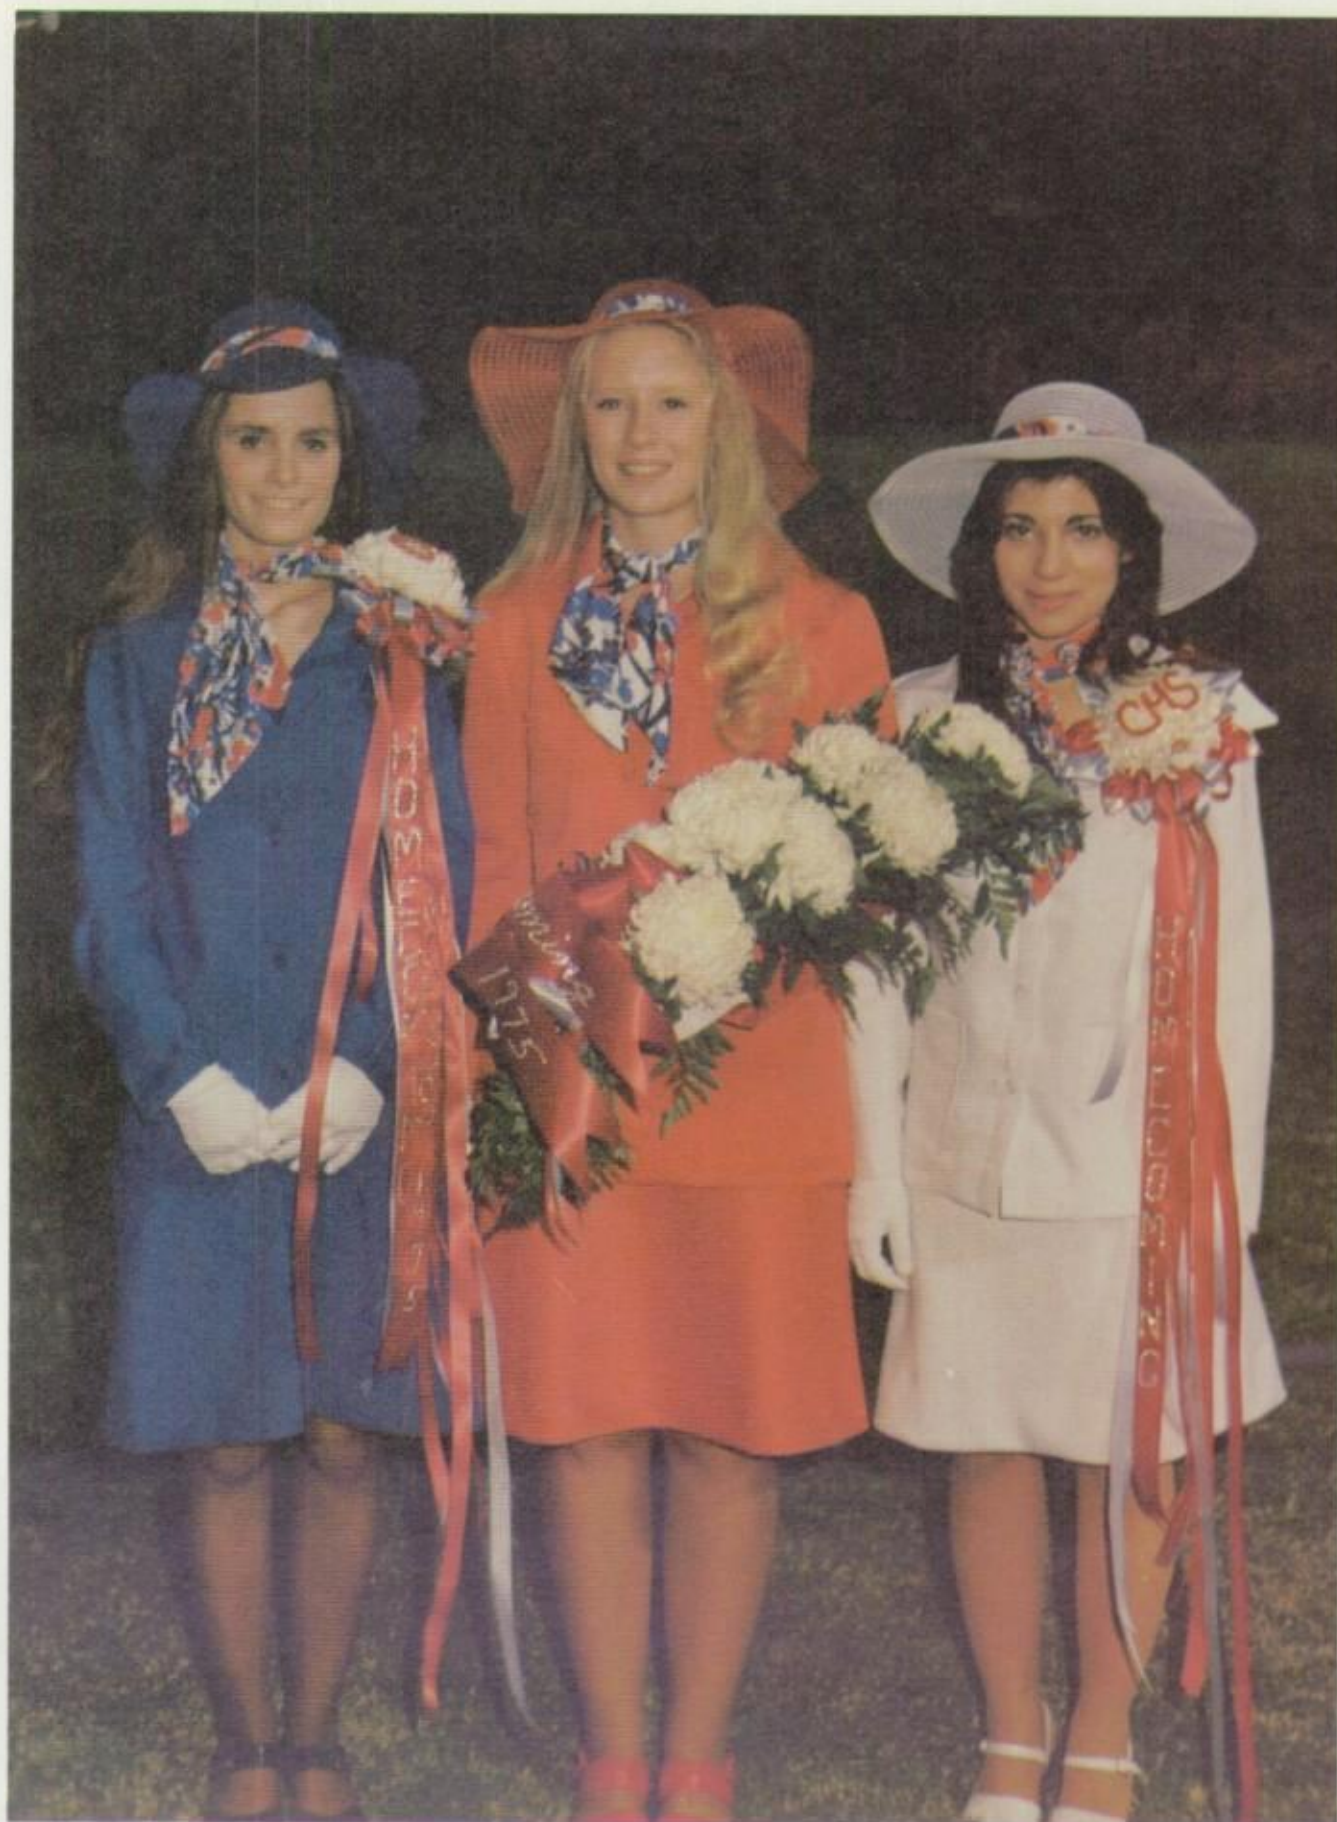

JIMMY WILSON

"Expectation, hard work, and enjoyment."

DORENDA PARISH

"Homecoming is when school spirit is expressed the most. It is a chance for all the exes to come back to school and see all the changes."

JIM GROSS

Star Spangled Year

Homecoming, 1975, proved promising, pretentious, and perplexing. The activities commenced with the traditional Thursday evening parade and poster-painting party. On Friday morning the door decorations were judged with the following results: Coach Allen, Most Spirited; Mrs. Kaatz, Most Attractive; Miss Payne, Most Unique; and Mr. Hallmark was Best-All-Around - #1.

The morning pep rally was spontaneous and spirited as the cheerleaders, band, drill team, and student body lifted the gym roof with "Beat Richland" cheers. The day was full of high spirits, and the halls were full of mum-shouldered girls.

The seniors sponsored a hospitality section for the exes throughout the day. At 2:30 the traditional exes pep rally was held. Jim Gross, Student Council President, gave the welcome, and Mr. Barnes extended his greetings. Dr. Winn introduced the Coming Home Queen candidates and the Homecoming Queen candidates. A brief pep rally was held concluding with ex-cheerleaders leading "two bits."

The evening festivities began with the cheerleaders releasing red and blue helium filled balloons. The half-time proved to be the highlight of the night. Senior Dorenda Parish, escorted by John Cockerham, was crowned 1975 Homecoming Queen. Tracy Brown, escorted by Jorge Mendoza, and Mary Tsumpis, escorted by Keith Wells, completed the Homecoming Court. Coming Home Court representing the 1965 class included Queen Beverly Hogg, Princesses Cheryl Beach Smith, and Linda Zwayner Pugliano. Mr. W. O. Barnes was presented an honorary life membership in the Castleberry Ex-Student Association. The half-time was climaxed with the Key Club presenting a huge United States flag and doves of peace while the CHS band played the National Anthem.

Richland proved to be the better football team as they spoiled Homecoming '75 by defeating the Lions; however, the day brought many old friends of Castleberry together once again.

Is apathy a problem among your students

• • •

"There are two extremes. Those who are too involved and those who are not involved at all. It does seem to me that many students are a little "over-sophisticated" for their young years and as a result, they seem to feel that enthusiasm is not for them - result: apathy."

DIANA CRABTREE

"Yes! I don't know why there is an apathetic attitude toward academic studies. I only hope that apathy is not contagious, but I fear that it is."

MISS JOHNSON

"The apathy of some students is appalling. Fortunately, there are a lot of students that want to pass, and the latter makes up the majority in my classes."

DOC DAUBERT

"Since I believe that apathy is a learned trait, I think that my students are apathetic when I am."

MISS GRAY

"Yes, because there is a certain group of students that do everything while others sit back and watch."

MRS. MARTIN

"Some of our students do not want to assume responsibility and really get involved. Every worthwhile goal accomplished in life requires work. Who is responsible for this lack of interest and concern? Yes, apathy is a problem among some of our students."

RACHEL PEARCE

Can you relate to your teachers

• • •

"I feel that the teacher-student relationship at C.H.S. is excellent. Everyone is very open."

JOHN COCKERHAM

"One of them."

RODNEY HITZFELD

"Teachers are people and it depends on the certain teacher if I can really relate to her on the subject. I have had quite a few teachers in high school that I respect. These teachers are special and love teaching and the students."

MELISSA JEMISON

"Yes, it should always be this way."

GAYNA HAVENS

"I think that many teachers are afraid to relate; but a select few are great."

CHRIS MARTIN

What has four years at C.H.S. meant to you

• • •

"A lot of homework."

GAYLA GIPSON

"Its gone real fast. A lot has changed for the better."

REBA JOHNSON

"Time"

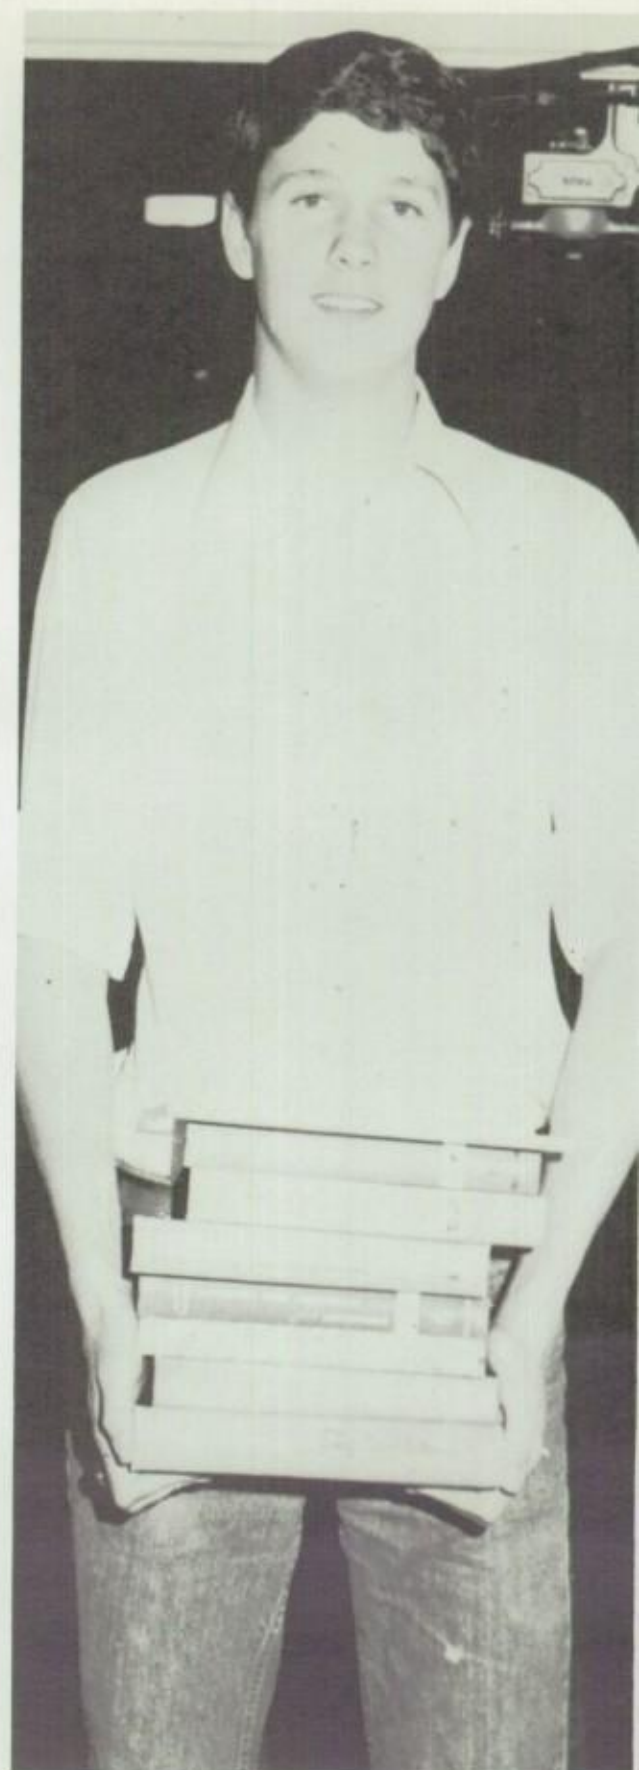

MIKE PARKER

"A fairly good education, a lot of friendship, and a lot of fun. I don't think there's any other school I would rather have gone to. Proud to be a Castleberrian!"

JANICE KOLB

"It's a learning experience that made me more mature in my thinking and has given me the ability to see and analyze life from more than one point of view."

KEVIN MAURER

School — a frequently heard word in every person's vocabulary, but what does it mean

• • •

"Excitement! It also means fun, tests, work, and times that all of us will remember."

JULIE IBOS

"Having to get up early in the morning."

SHEILA LAVIOLETTE

"School means work, education and fun only in basketball."

GARY CANADY

"Somewhere you go to learn."

BRUCE SCOTT

"When I hear the word 'school' I think of pop tests and homework which isn't too good. But I think the best part about it is friends, lunch and football games."

PATTI WATSON

How do you feel about the band going to Hawaii

• • •

"I think it's great! I have an opportunity to go someplace that I've never been."

CINDY THYER

"Fantastic!"

BARBARA BULLARD

"It's really great. We have come a long way. All the way to Hawaii. Thanks Mr. Aikman."

MELANIE MONTGOMERY

"I think it will be a really neat experience for them and for me 'cause I'll get rid of my brother for a week."

SHARON SENNE

"I'm happy for 'em. Hope they have lots of fun!"

ANNE GOOSENS

How's your love life . . .

"Bring the kids, the dog, the mother.
It's rated G."

RITA BENNETT

"How's my love life? Tennis matches at Haltom, Grapevine, and all the country clubs. Yeah, but how's your love life? Double Fault!"

BRYAN MARTIN

"If it was on a scale between one and ten, it wouldn't register."

SCOTT BRADSHAW

"How's the weather?"

JONATHAN HILES

"Are you kidding? One nice smile and they disappear forever!"

DONNA CASON

"Unnecessary roughness!"

BOBBY RODRIQUEZ

What does the Bicentennial mean to you

• • •

"Commercialism."

TRACY BROWN

"It means a lot of work in Mr. Duke's class."

MAURCIE EDWARDS

"A neat way to celebrate something."

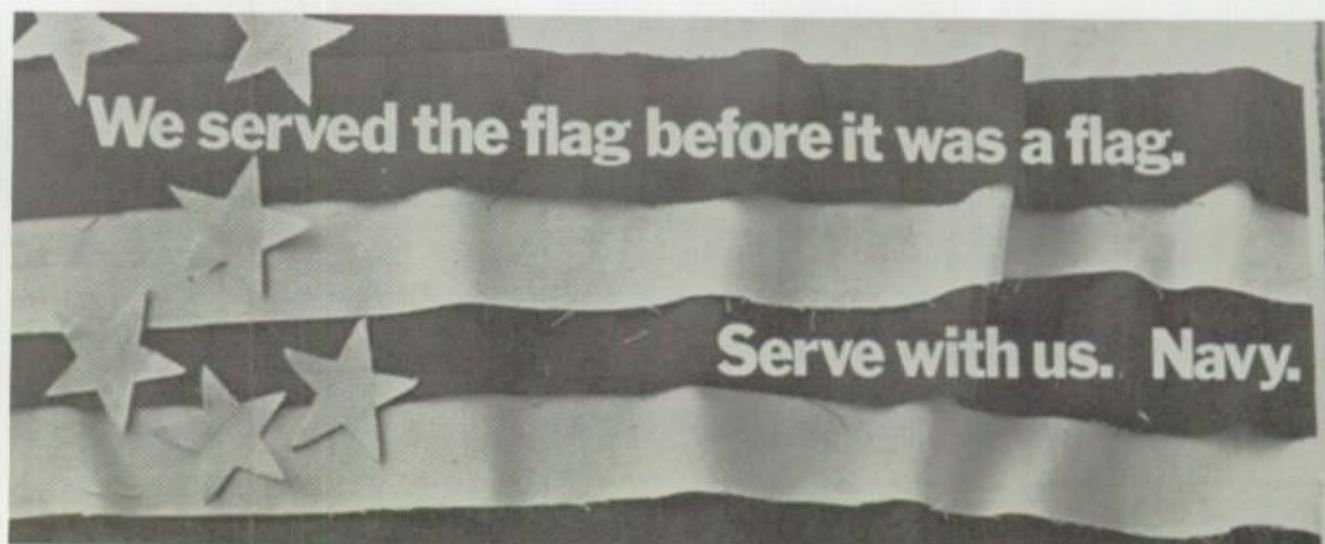

MARK ENDRES

"To recreate the past two hundred years in celebration of our country's independence from Britain."

ELLEN PENNEY

"It means being fortunate enough to be born at just the right time to graduate from high school while we celebrate our nation's two hundred birthday."

SIMMIANNE JOHNSON

176★196

The purpose of a yearbook is to capture a high school year and all the conditions that affect it — not only the school itself but also its environment. Although the bicentennial has been exploited in numerous ways, this high school year is the 200th birthday of a great nation, and it is a special celebration. A number of high school students are indifferent towards the bicentennial; however, few realize the privilege of being indifferent is guaranteed by a democracy. The "Spirit of '76" can vary from products bought to a patriotic feeling, but it has played an important role this year. In the following pages, the history of the "Spirit of '76" is portrayed.

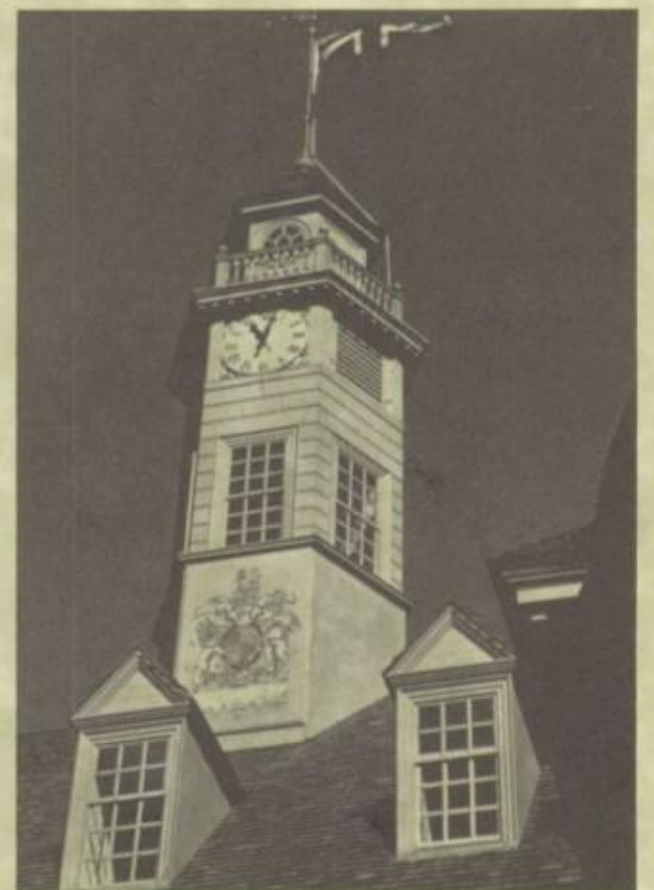

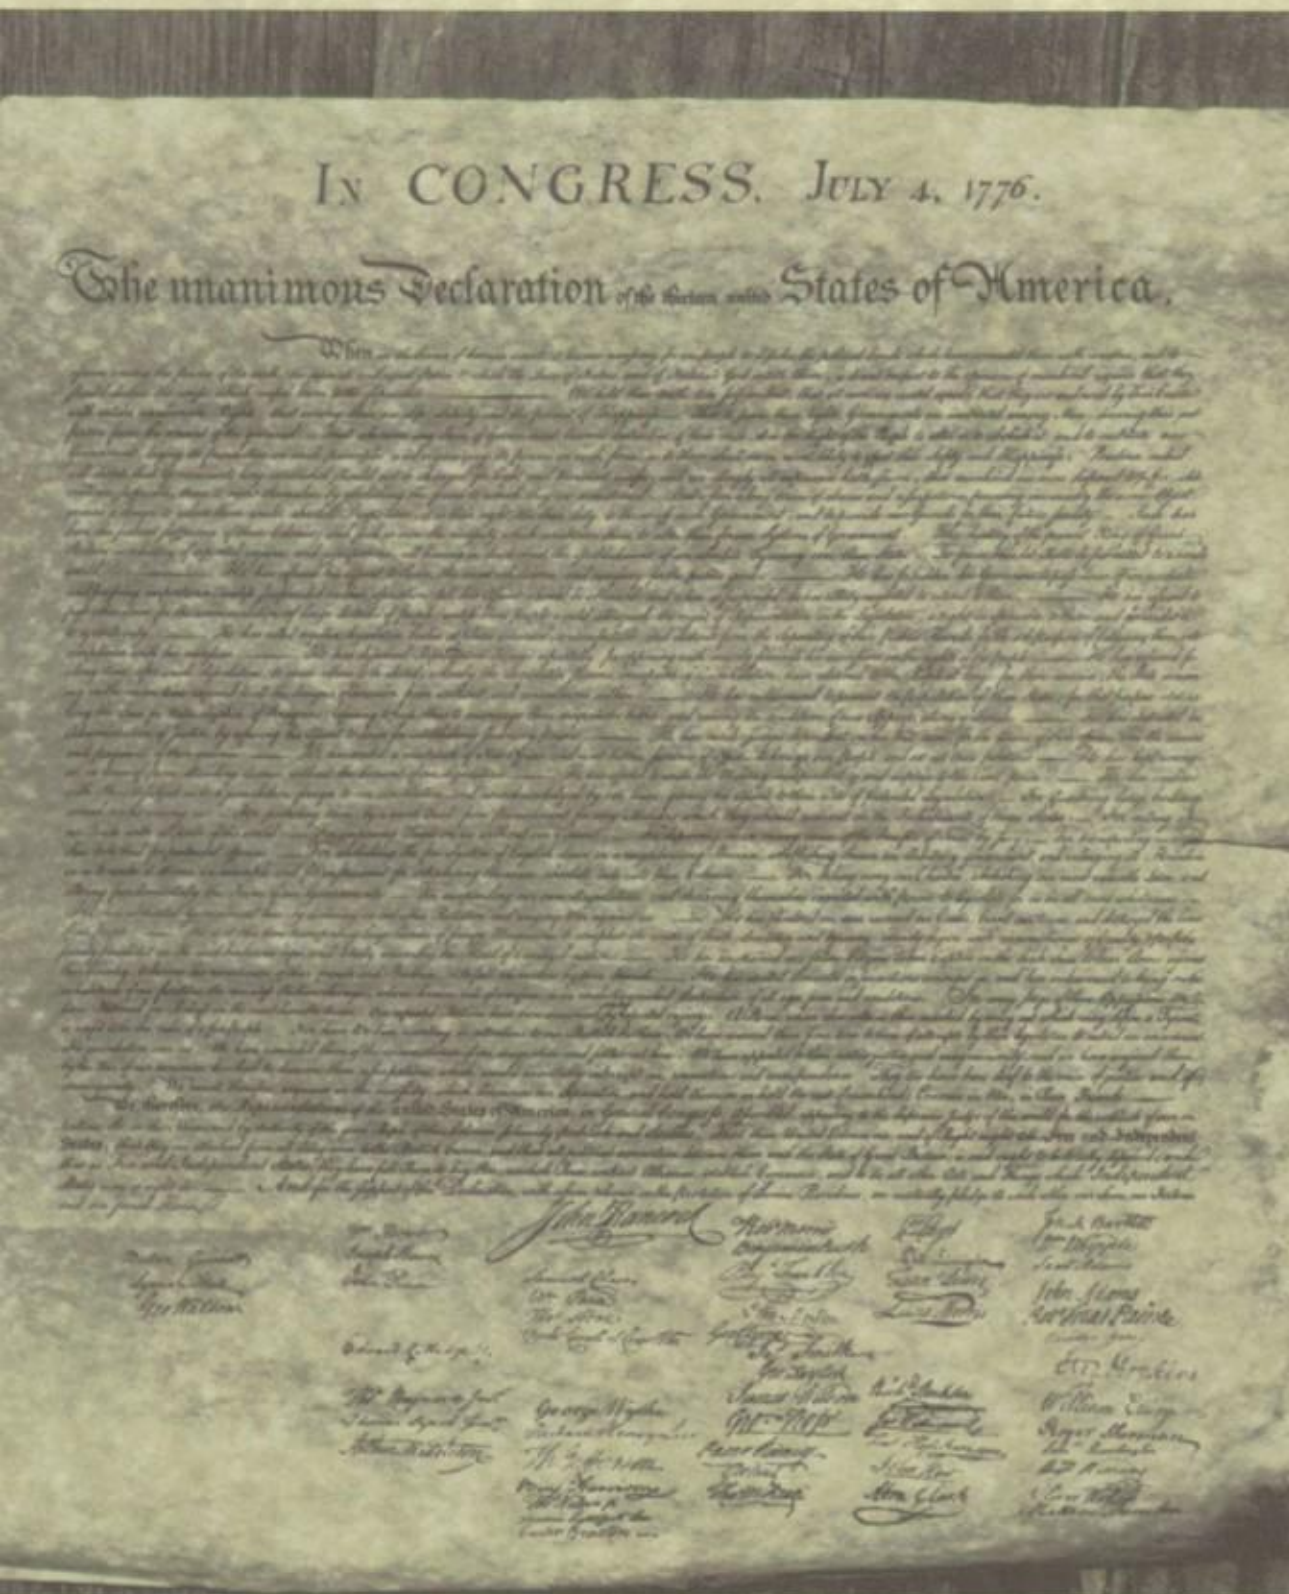

Pilgrims, considered adventuresome individualists, began the long journey to democracy. In 1620 the Mayflower brought these nonconformists to this land, and seven years later they established Plimoth Plantation. The Mayflower Compact created self-government, and although still subjects of England, the Pilgrims had set a precedent for future generations, as witnessed by the Revolution.

After the first colonies suffered to establish settlements, increasing numbers of immigrants saw the New World as a land of limitless opportunities. Distinctive patterns of life developed between social classes similar to those of England, but the situation was soon to change. Gradually, lifestyles accumulated "American" traits until the first true American emerged — the frontiersman. Lifestyles were not all that changed. Reforms such as religious tolerance, freedom in thinking and learning (aided by public schools), and experience in colony self-government better enabled the Revolutionaries victory over England.

Before any real growth industrially by the colonies, Great Britain enforced restrictions on selling, shipping, manufacturing, and buying in order to regulate trade; however, after the French-Indian War, England needed money, and the British expected the colonies to provide a major portion of the revenues necessary for the large empire they had acquired. As a result, exorbitant taxation without representatives in England was attempted. Tempers reached a climax and on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence from Britain was adopted. War was waged and after five grueling years the Revolutionaries won their independence.

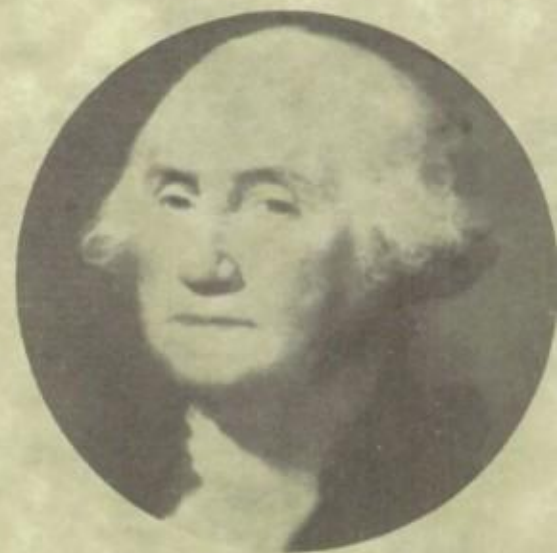

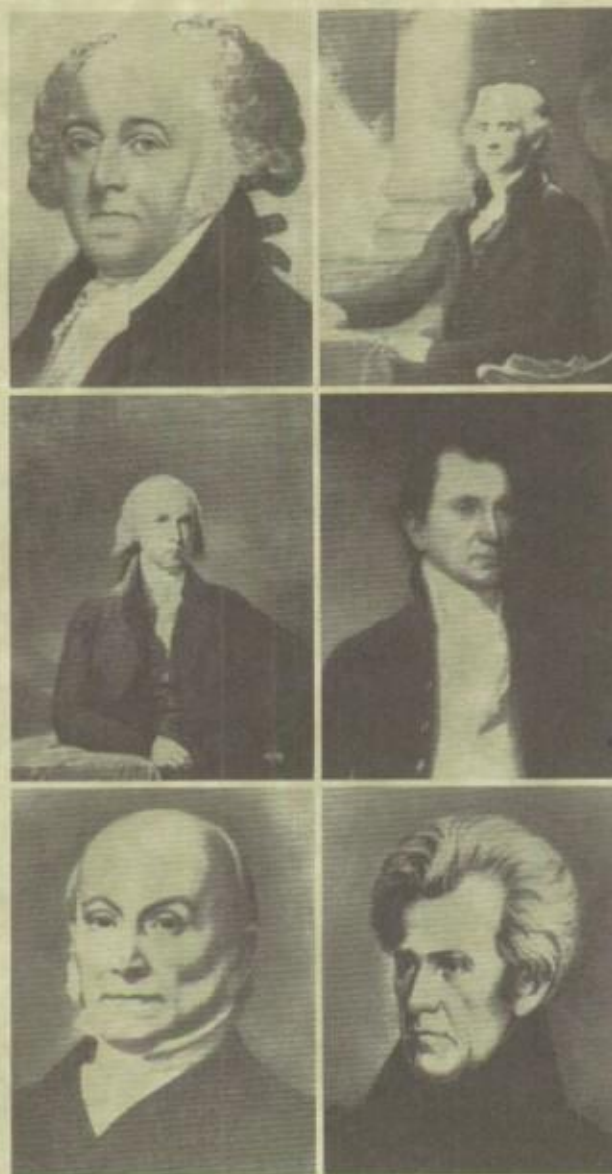

Five years after the Declaration of Independence was adopted, another important document was ratified. The first step toward creating a union was the adoption of the Articles of Confederation. Major flaws were found in the Articles of Confederation, and a convention met in May of 1787 to reform the basic law of the newly founded nation. By September of the same year, the delegates of the convention had decided to accept the Constitution as it is today excluding amendments. After months of heated discussions among each state, the Constitution of the United States had been ratified by the summer of 1788.

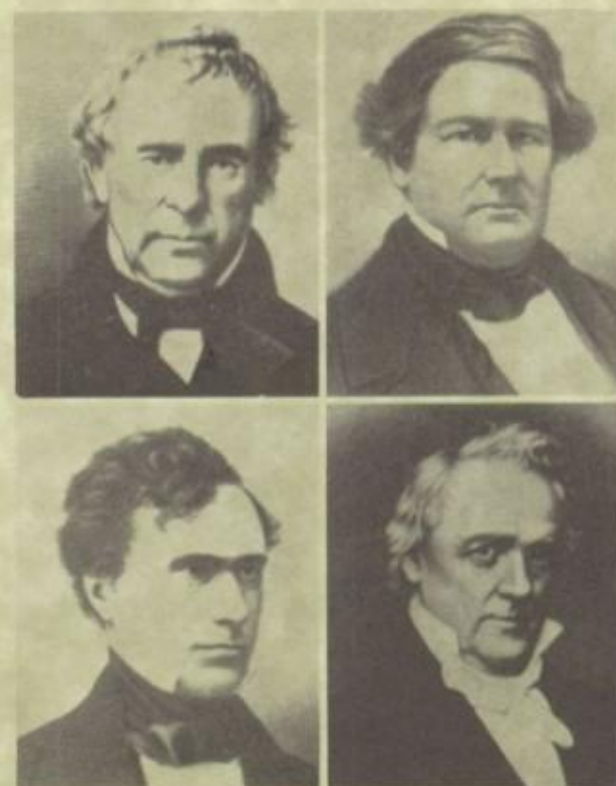

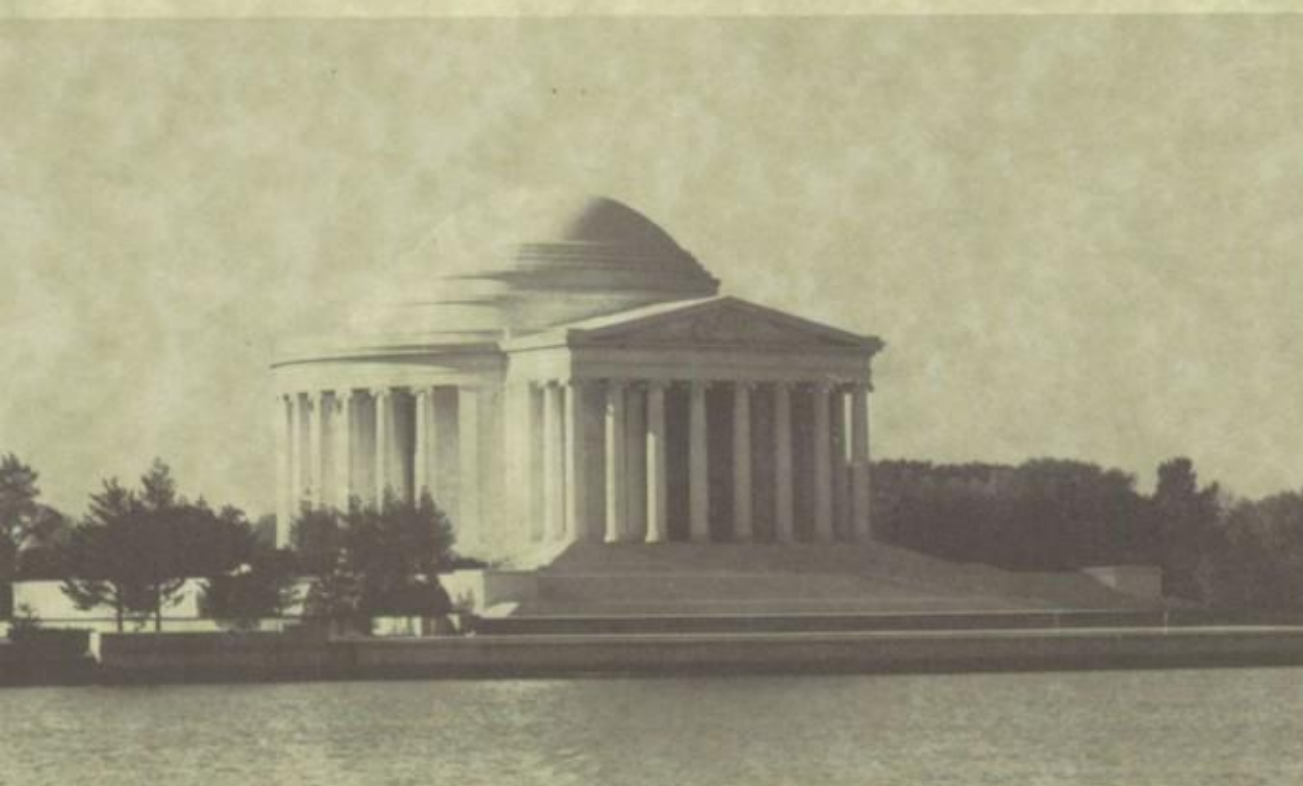

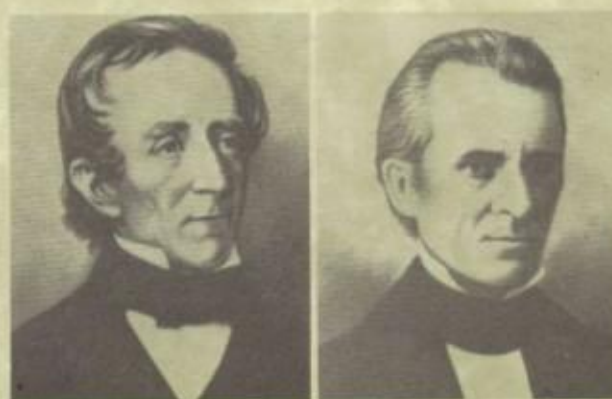

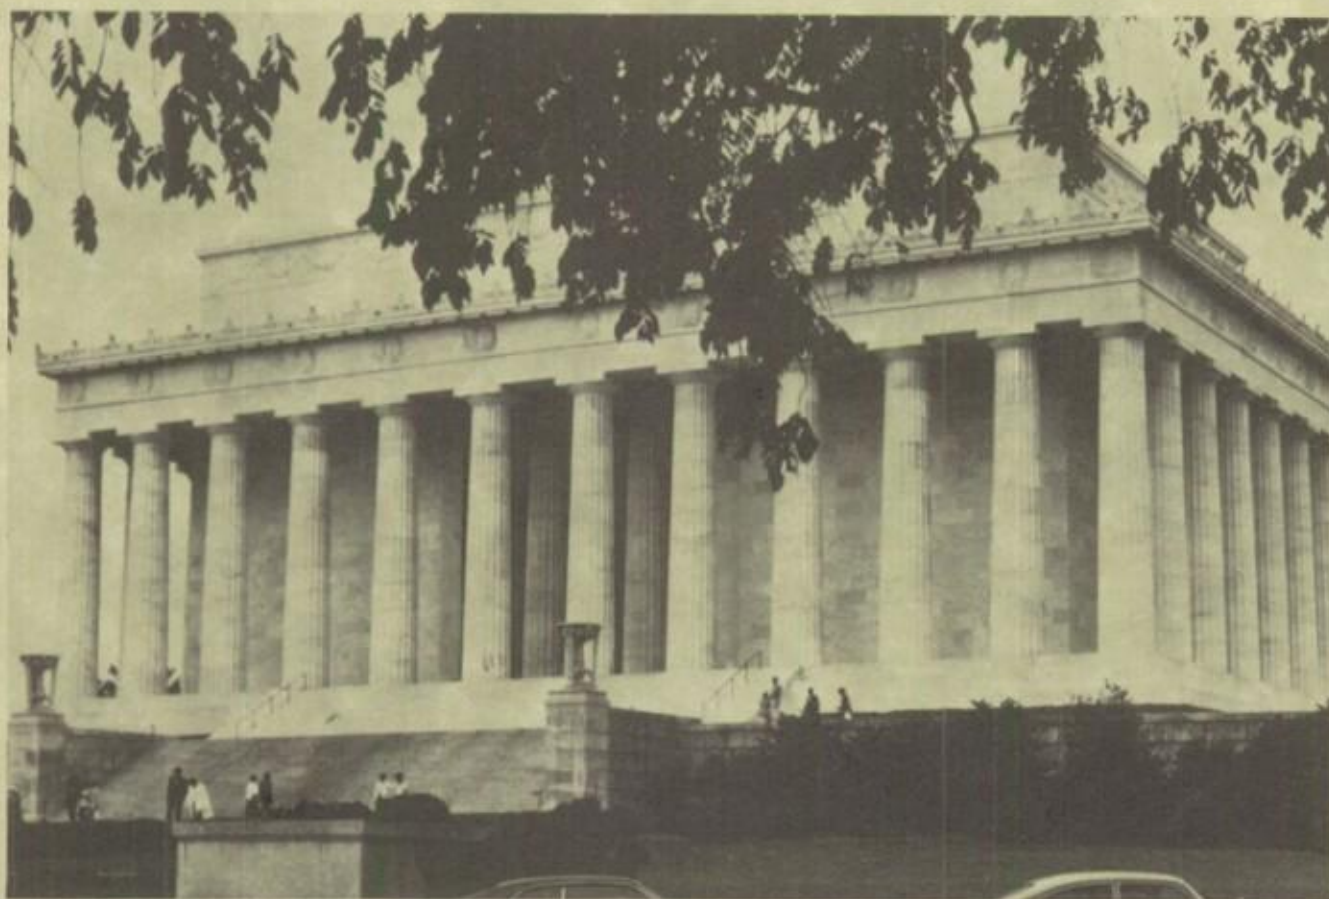

In April of 1789, George Washington took the position of President after having been a leader in the Revolution. The Father of Our Country led the new states safely through the formative years and welded the country into a nation. During the presidencies of John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, John Q. Adams, and Andrew Jackson, additions of territories (such as Ohio and the Louisiana Purchase), political progressions (as witnessed by the two party system and spoils system), and turmoils within the nation (as seen in the prohibition of slave importation and the creation of the Treasury of the United States) occurred.

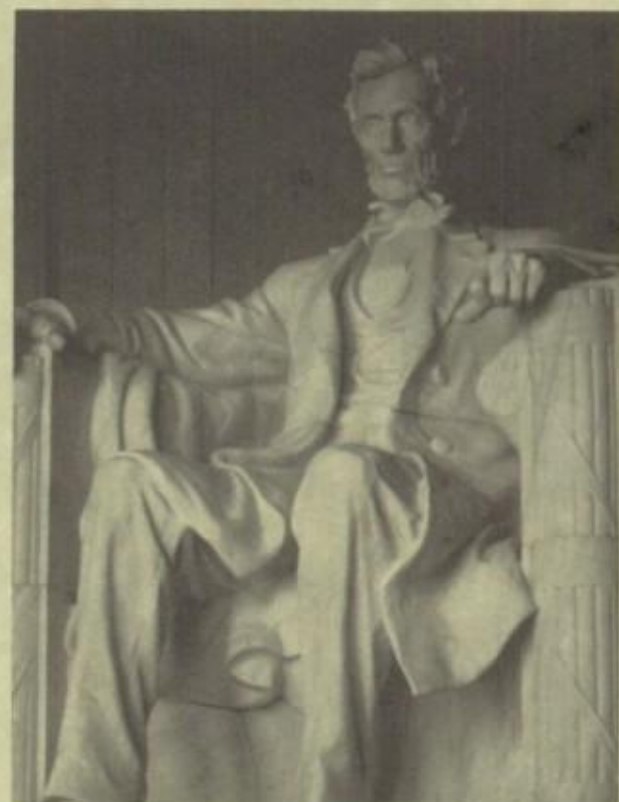

In the years preceding the Civil War, the United States experienced a period of expansion. President Fillmore initiated diplomatic relations with Japan, and President Pierce's term saw the beginning of a transcontinental railroad. Under the administrations of Tyler, Polk, and Taylor, Texas and California were admitted to the nation and five territories were claimed as property of the United States. Slavery was a sensitive issue, and with every additional land claim new trouble arose.

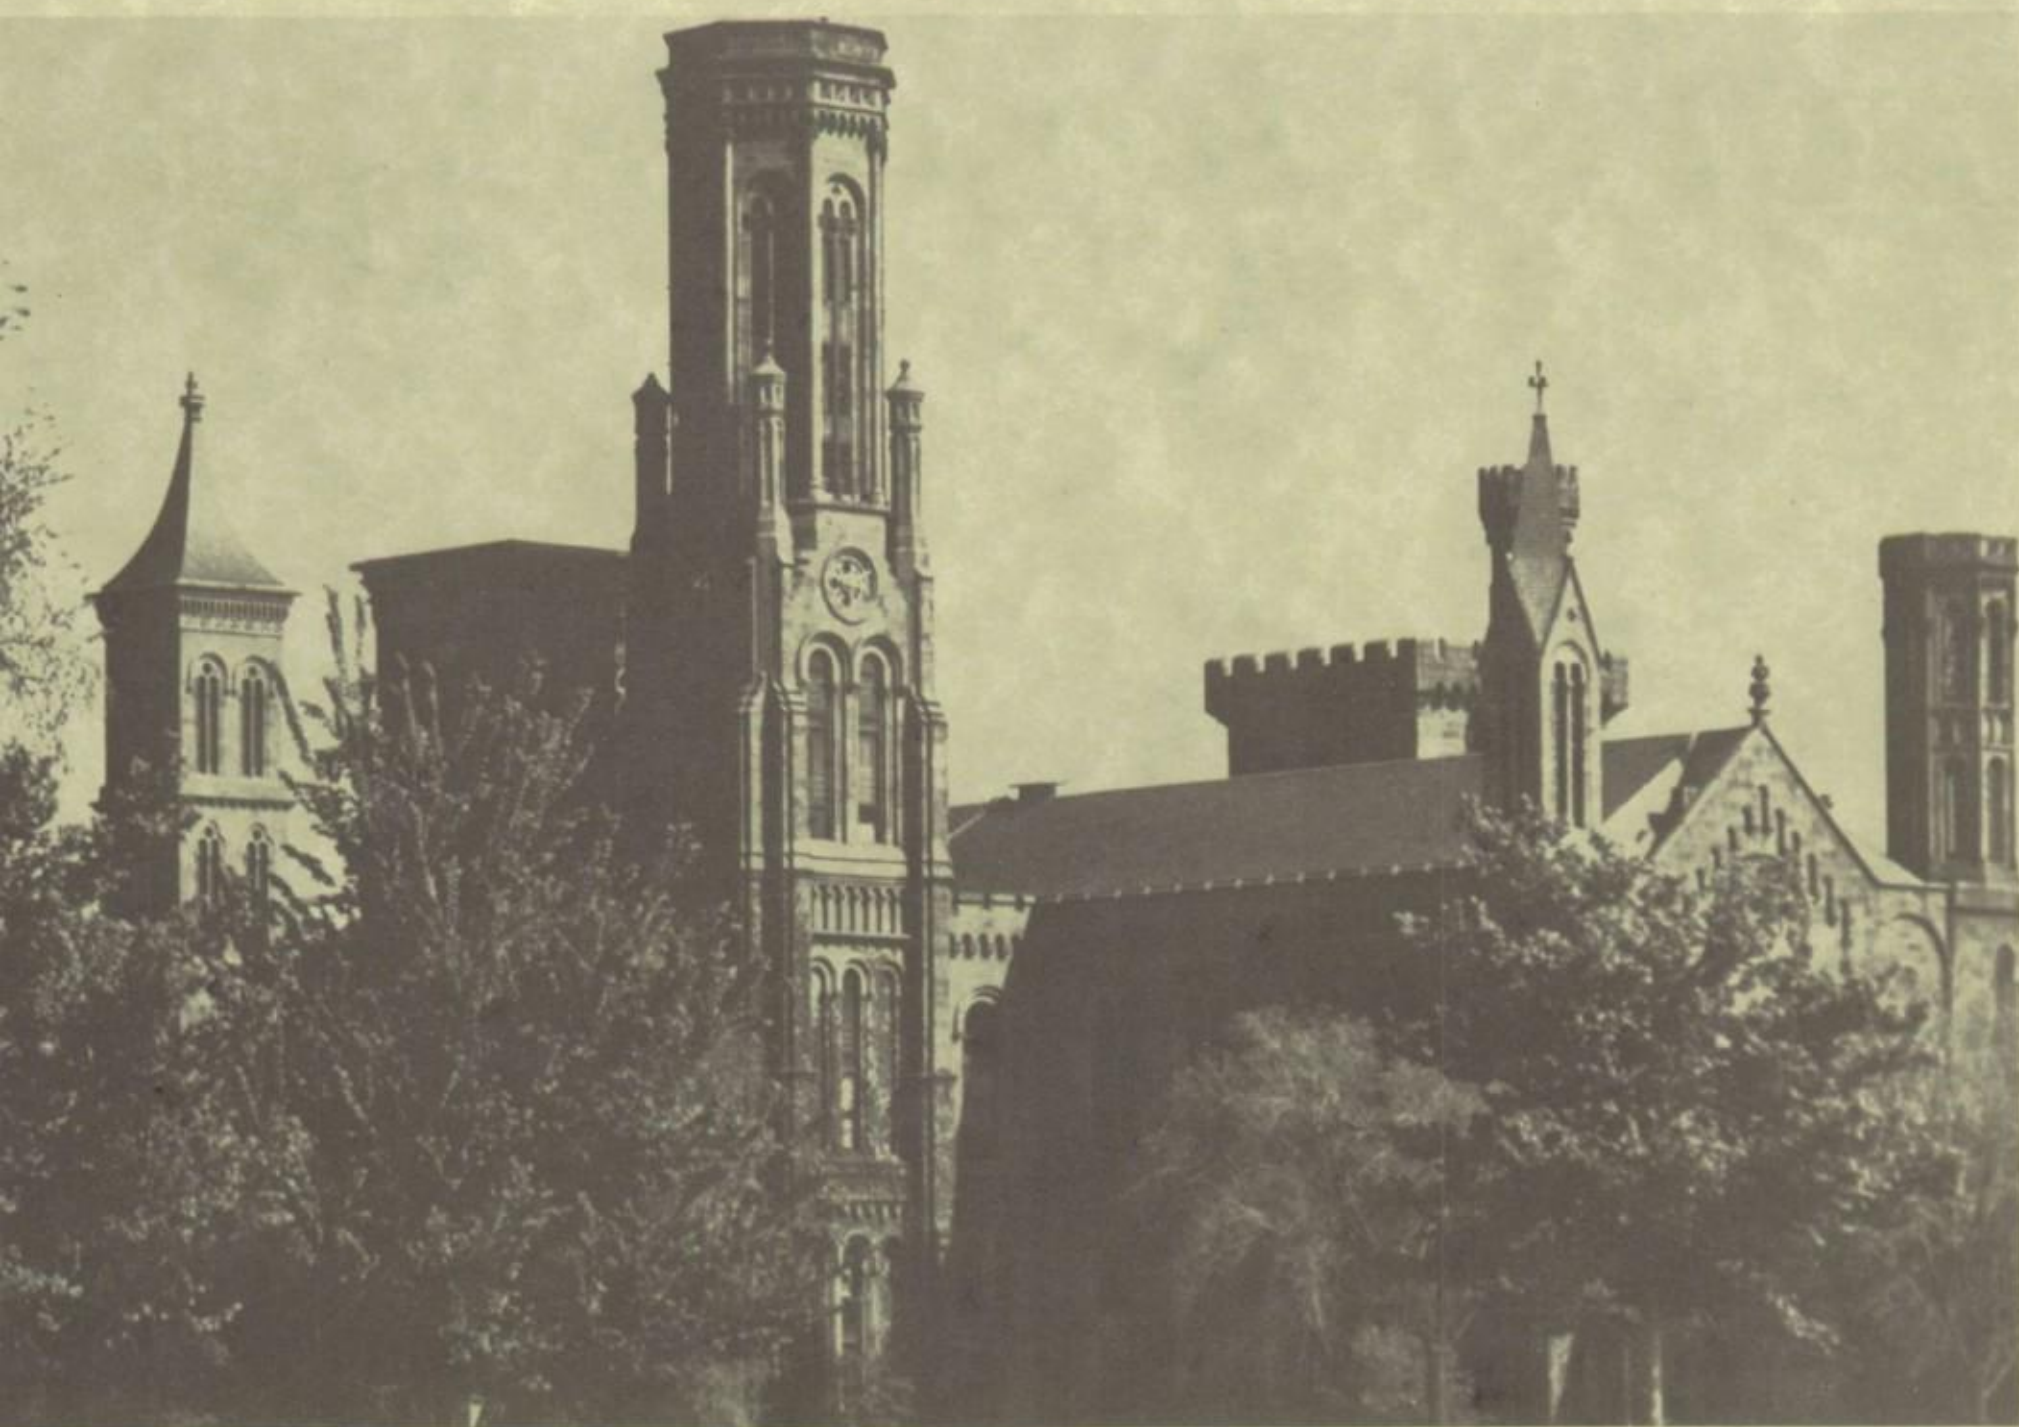

After years of disputes over the slavery issue, the Civil War erupted under the administration of Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln supported the Union through four war-stricken years, but was assassinated before overseeing reconstruction. Andrew Johnson replaced Lincoln and led the country through a period of reconstruction, although his administration used harsh methods. Economic recessions occurred during the terms of Grant and Harrison, and the famous Pullman Strike was settled under one of Cleveland's administrations. Civil Service had long been corrupt, and reforms were effected under the administrations of Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, and Cleveland.

Gifts honoring this nation's freedom have long been a part of its history. Two of the most famous presents are the Smithsonian Institution and the Statue of Liberty. The Smithsonian Institution, created to further learning and research, was established in 1846 by an Englishman, James Smithson. The Statue of Liberty was given to the United States in 1884 by France as a symbol of friendship and freedom.

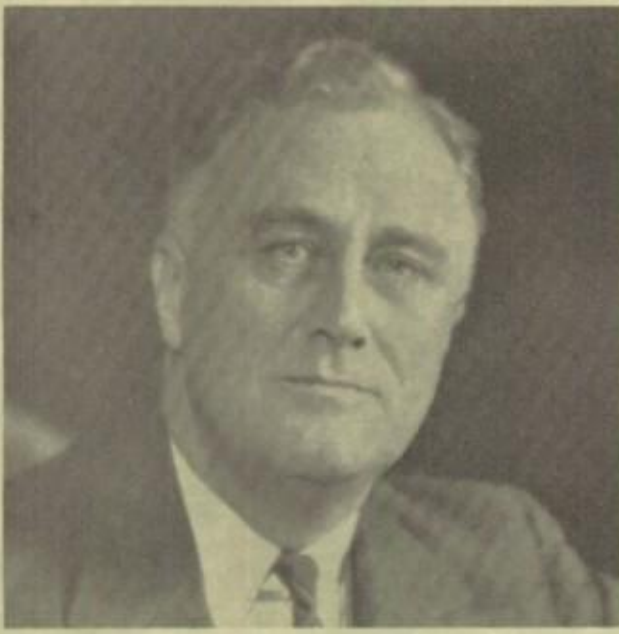

During William McKinley's Presidency, the Spanish-American War proclaimed the United States as a world power, which began the disappearance of isolationism as American foreign policy. President Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt was considered by some historians to be the most energetic of all Presidents in the United States, and under his term the Panama Canal construction was initiated. William Taft became President in 1909, and strong anti-trust laws were enforced during this period. Woodrow Wilson, a peace lover, took office in 1913, but was pressured into declaring war in 1917. In Arlington National Cemetery is a tomb of the Unknown Soldier, a hallowed and cherished shrine for all Americans, dedicated on Armistice Day, 1921.

During the post-World War I years, world peace was the major objective of most countries. President Calvin Coolidge proved to be a wise administrator at a time when peace pacts were important as bonds between nations. There was a post-war slump in the United States, and the economy steadily declined under Herbert Hoover's administration, which directly followed Coolidge's term. When Hoover left office, the Depression had reached crisis proportions. Franklin Roosevelt, a man destined to be plagued by catastrophic problems, took office with the threat of World War II looming close at hand.

Franklin Roosevelt was the only man to serve four terms as President of the United States. Roosevelt's first overwhelming task was to overcome the country's economic distress, and to accomplish recovery the "New Deal" was initiated. Although World War II had supposedly been settled, treaties were broken and emotions reached their peaks. An isolationist nation until World War II, the United States was forced to enter the war by military aggression against this country.

Harry Truman, after succeeding to the presidency due to Roosevelt's death, terminated World War II and led the United States through the Korean War. Desegregation was a strong point in Eisenhower's term of office, as it was in John Kennedy's term before his assassination. Lyndon Johnson progressed in desegregation, but his most important accomplishments were in education.

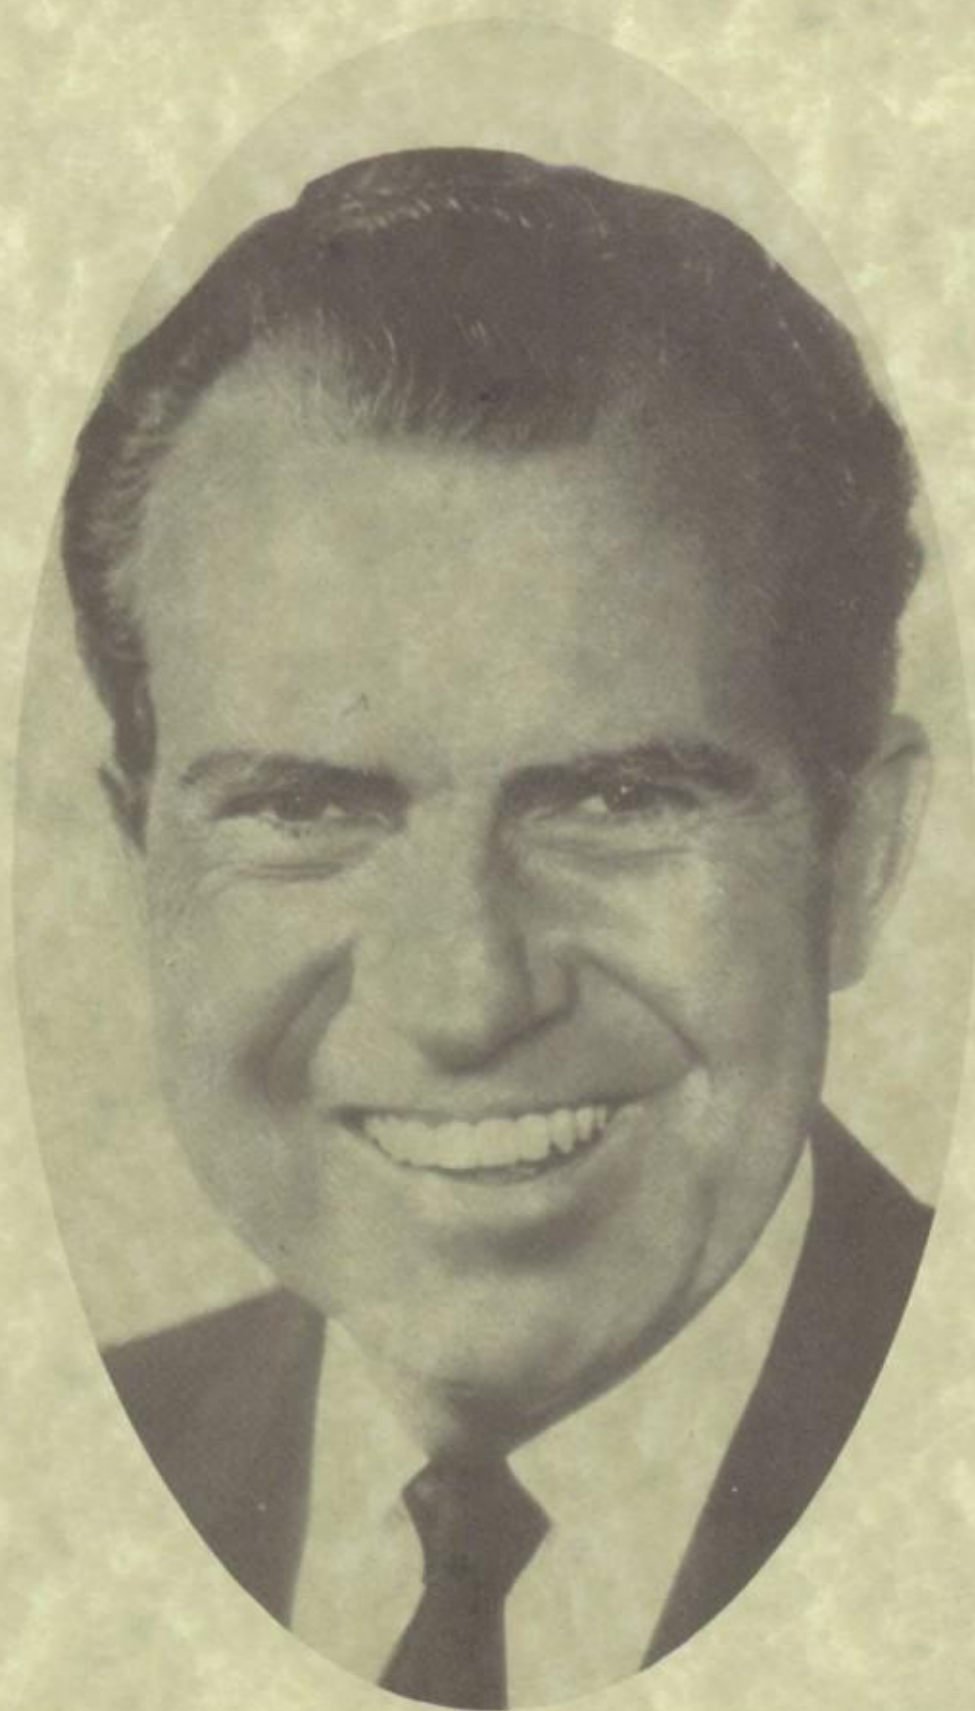

In a comparatively short period of time, the United States became a world power. Although other countries were more advanced technologically in the late 1950's and early 1960's, the major support of the free world was not lagging much. In July of 1969, the first man to walk on the surface of the moon was a citizen of this nation, with the historic words:

"That's one small step for a man, one giant leap for mankind."

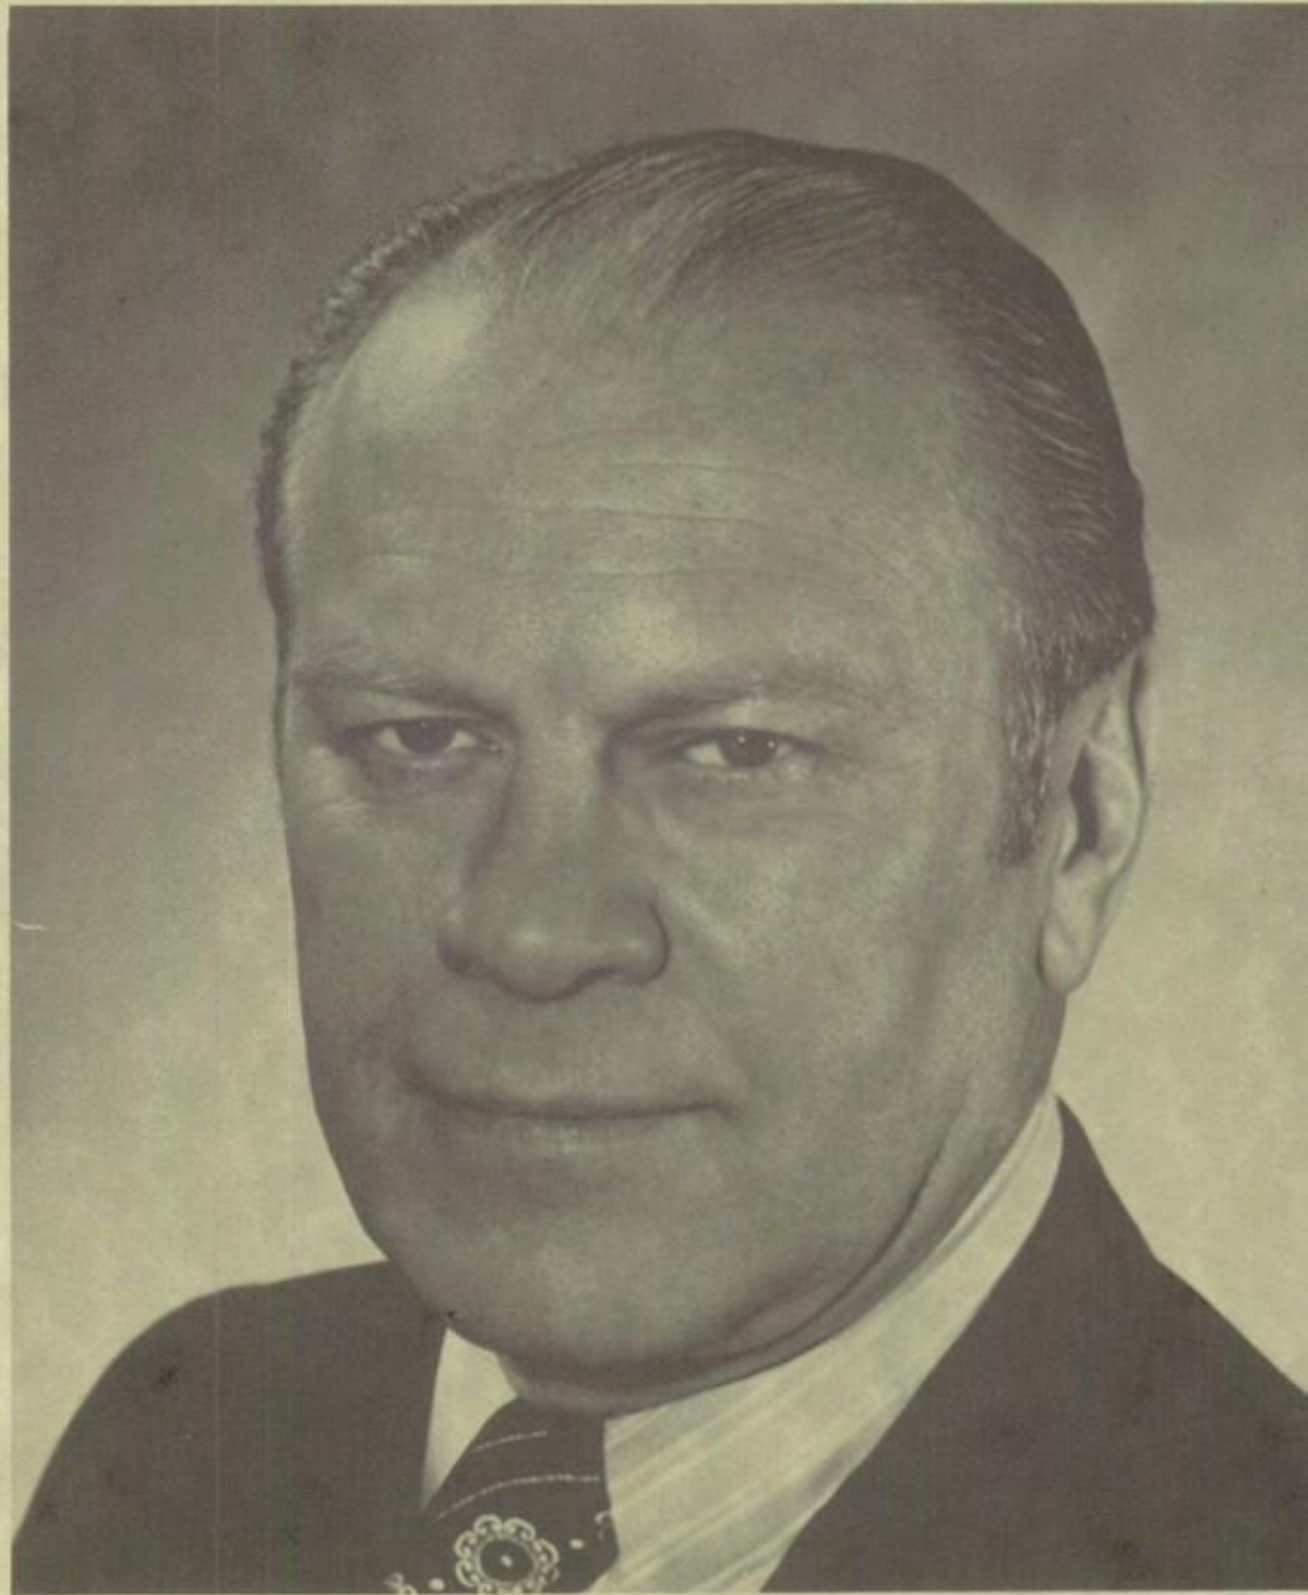

During Richard Nixon's first term as President of the United States, extensive measures were taken to end the conflict in Vietnam, which had magnified under Johnson's administration. In the summer of 1972, the World's attention was focused on a tragic scandal in the United States — Watergate. Watergate was the building chosen as the Democratic Party's headquarters, the building which was trespassed and "bugged" by Republican conspirators. Under the threat of impeachment, Nixon resigned to save the country a degrading trial.

The two highest officials of our democratic society have received their positions without the votes of the public, for the first time in history. As a result of Watergate, Gerald Ford succeeded to the Presidency as did Nelson Rockefeller to the Vice-Presidency. Only the election of this bicentennial year will decide whether the line of succession was what the American people wanted.

Our present realities have been profoundly influenced by our past. The Utopian dream which impelled our forefathers continues to be the illusion that is attainable only in the future.

RODEO is an athletes crap game. A man pays his money and takes his chances, knowing that there can only be a few winners and a lot of losers. RODEO is living life to the fullest, always knowing that your career or your existence can be snuffed out by the flick of a horn or the toss of a hoof. It's a lot of good times with good people, danger and dust.

A RODEO athlete rides bulls or horses and wrestles steers for the same irresistible reasons that a man climbs mountains, pushes racing cars to the edge of adhesion, or dives from airplanes: for exhilaration, pride in himself, and the feeling he has conquered nature - at least this time.

No one forces these cowboys into RODEO. They have chosen their own battleground, the last frontier of rugged individualism. That is the way they want it. The RODEO is the last place in these bad-draw times where a man can live and die and win and lose on his own terms with just a little luck.

Lion Spirit Survives

The first two games of the Lion's football season raised spirits enormously as the Lions skimmed past Brewer 10-7 and trampled Azle 19-0. Although the next three games were lost, the Lions were not caught scoreless. Beginning district play against the Haltom Buffalos, the Lions played a game of defense; however, the Lions did score on one of its offensive plays, which ended the game 6-41, in Haltom's favor. When the Lions traveled to play Trinity, the initial score encouraged fans to be optimistic; hopes were dashed as the Trojans' score of 34 made the outcome 6-34. Against L. D. Bell, the Lions experienced their best offensive drives; but, fumbles and interceptions lost the game for the Lions with a result of 6-39. Even though the scores were not always to Castleberry's advantage, the winning spirit was prevalent in the hearts of the Lions.

Although the scores had not been favorably impressive for Castleberry, the Lions approached the second half of the season with enthusiasm. This enthusiasm was not altered after the Lions lost to Richland Rebels 6-60. The three consecutive games following the Lions' open week were a disappointment since all three were against teams from Wichita Falls, which is known for producing state champions in football. The result of Castleberry's game with Wichita Falls, 0-42 in favor of Wichita Falls, was attributed to the fact that the Coyotes were larger than the Lions. After traveling to confront Hirshi, the Lions came back subdued with a score of 6-49 in favor of the Huskies. In hosting Rider, the Lions played defense which resulted in the score 0-55 to the Raiders' advantage. The last game of the season proved to be a victory for Mineral Wells when the final verdict of 0-54 was announced. Although the scoreboard was not always positive for Castleberry, the lights were not a reflection of the spirit. Determination permitted the team to enjoy dignity; a stubborn group united the school.

Conclusively, the '75-76 boys' basketball season was not completely favorable for the Castleberry Lions. Although most of the games were close, Castleberry won only one of its district games. Contrasting this picture of defeat, the Lions were victorious in several non-district games - Brewer, Arlington Lamar, Lake Worth, Azle, and Diamond Hill. There were several high point players, but in these efforts the action of Tommy Winn and Jimmy Wilson brought them the honor of making the second string all district. The 1975-1976 districting caused the basketball team to face tough opposition, and next year's results are expected to surpass this year's scores.

To expand the girls' athletic program at C.H.S., girls' basketball was added during the 1975-1976 season. The varsity had a season record of thirteen wins and nine losses. The beginning was very slow with a loss in the first scrimmage to Weatherford; and in the following two games, the girls were defeated by Fort Worth Christian and Berkner. The next game brought the first victory over Country Day which greatly boosted the morale of the team. Country Day was again defeated by the team at a later date. The girls went on to defeat Richland in two games, Haltom in two games, and Boswell. The varsity was entered in three tournaments. The first of these tournaments was at Fort Worth Christian. The team was defeated in the first game of the tournament by Lake Worth, but came back to win the Consolation Trophy by defeating Trinity Valley and Dallas Christian. The next tournament at Kennedale brought another Consolation Trophy with the Lions losing to Mansfield, but returning to defeat Keller and Red Oak. The Richland Tournament brought a much-deserved and hard-fought-for First Place by the girls' victory over O. D. Wyatt and Richland. The 1975-1976 season has been an encouraging one for the girls' basketball team and has proven a proper beginning for a new athletic program for girls.

We will remember the unity, a combined love and spirit. The love that was given and received created a strong bond among us. The spirit that grew was a faith in each other because we believed. The moments of unity with the student body and our teams have meant more to us than any winning score. Although the year brought different emotions, our thoughts and ideas were guided toward our purpose by our "instigator," "inspirator," and "motivator" - Mrs. Murray.

25 Wins — 4 Losses

The Varsity Volleyball team completed their 1975-1976 season as District Champions. The girls had an incredible year with 25 wins and only 4 losses. The Lions first loss came in the first game of the season when they were defeated by Nimitz; but through much effort, the team came back to win 7 games in a row against Pearce, Plano, Berkner, and Wyatt. Then the volleyball team brought home a Consolation Trophy from the Abilene Tournament in which they lost to Snyder but came back to win against Graham, Breckenridge, and Colorado City. The girls then defeated Richardson in two games and Nolan before beginning district play. They were also entered in the Richardson Tournament. The Lions defeated Pearce, Malakoff, and Nimitz before suffering a loss to Arlington in this Tournament. The varsity girls came back to win all their district games against Trinity, Haltom, Bell, Richland, and Berkner. This achievement qualified the team to play the Bi-District match against Midland. The Lions were defeated, but gave Midland a tough fight taking them to a three game match in which the Lions won the second game. With this year's record, the volleyball team is looking forward to a good season next year in 3AAA district play.

OBEDIENCE is a virtue found in each of the students in this section. Obedience not only to others, but also an obedience from within, has brought honors to these outstanding students for their academic lives as well as their social acceptance.

Mr. and Miss CastlevIEWS

Melinda Huston

Jim Gross

Mr. and Miss CastlevIEWS bear the most respected title bestowed by the student body. Seniors chosen to receive this honor must be versatile, for they represent the entire student body.

Finalists

Dorenda Parish

John Cockerham

Best All 'Round

Bobby Rodriguez

Delisa Daniel

Most Spirited

Donna Gross Cary Crager

Most Friendly

Chuck Davis Karen Culwell

Most Attractive and Handsome

Janice Kolb

David Hendrix

Best All-'Round Finalists

Tracy Brown

Tony Scarlato

These nominees are considered best not only in one attitude, but in every respect. The entire student body at Castleberry votes for Best All-'Round, and this is one of the most prestigious categories.

Most Friendly Finalists

Nancy Jackson

Michael Shrive

These four students can cheer the most dismal day, bring a smile to frowning attitudes, and light a warmth in eyes that were dull. Most Friendly nominees constantly care about what happens to others.

Most Spirited Finalists

Glenda Wooldridge

Mike Fowler

When excitement is at its lowest ebb, these four people make things happen. Spirit is a unifying factor, and these four make spirit a reality through even the toughest of situations.

Most Attractive Finalists

Patty Bender

Barry Machos

Natural beauty is a cause for attraction, and these four people are attractive. Beauty can be not only a physical trait, but also a characteristic of a personality.

Most Likely to Succeed Finalists

Carol Murphy

Jim Gross

The people featured in MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED are selected by the faculty. They are chosen for this honor on the basis of contributions to the school, spirit, attitude, leadership, character, and scholarship. Theresa, Carol, John, and Jim have each contributed in his own way to the successfulness of Castleberry High School. They have gone that extra mile as high school students and have earned respect from both the faculty and student body.

John has been outstanding in many areas but has accomplished outstanding feats with the Key Club. He was governor of the Texas-Oklahoma District and has traveled extensively in these two states helping to organize new clubs and to give assistance when needed. He was an honor student, a baseball player, member of the A Capella choir, and a student council senator.

Jim has worked diligently with the student council and this year served as president. He was outstanding in the field of athletics - swimming, football, and track. Jim gave enthusiasm and dedication to the activities in which he participated. He was a likeable young man and was elected Mr. Castleviews by the student body.

Theresa has been a cooperative and energetic member of the student body. She too has served on the student council for four years and was an honor student. Serving as editor of the annual has been her true forte. Countless hours have gone into the planning and preparation of the yearbook and she has given of herself unselfishly while achieving the goal of publication.

Carol has been the embodiment of spirit at Castleberry. Wherever this head cheerleader was - pep rally, football field, basketball game, volleyball court, track meet or baseball game - she gave her all. An honor student, she gave an outstanding performance as Maria in the choir's fall musical, SOUND OF MUSIC. Carol also involved herself in sextet, CTO, FCA, and was sweetheart of basketball, football, and choir.

The twig is so easily bended
 I have banished the rule and the rod:
 I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
 They have taught me the goodness of God:
 My heart is the dungeon of darkness,
 Where I shut them for breaking a rule;
 My frown is sufficient correction;
 My love is the law of the school.
 Charles M. Dickinson, THE CHILDREN

SCHOLARSHIP is often associated with book knowledge alone. A learned person also has the experience of enjoying friendships, suffering failures, having good times, and sharing himself. Every person in high school can be considered a scholar, because each matures both mentally and socially.

There's a feeling I get when I look to the west.
And my spirit is crying for leaving.
In my thoughts I have seen rings of smoke
through the trees.
And the voices of those who stand looking.

And it's whispered that soon if we all call the tune.
Then the piper will lead us to reason
And a new day will dawn for those who stand long.
And the forests will echo with laughter.

SENIORS '76 have been able to lead over-active schedules by their anticipation of the year's end. The last few months of our high school years seem to last an eternity, but in future reminiscences they will be fleeting glimpses of a carefree time. As we look back, there have been times when goals have appeared unattainable; however, the beauty of life is found in the struggle.

Betty,
I have enjoyed having you making memories with me this year. I wish it were so fast I wish it were longer. I hope you have a nice summer and stay sweet all the time. Congratulations on your final graduating good luck in the future.
Love always
Russa Beck

Betty,
It seems as though we know you longer than four ~~years~~ years, and seems that you've been smiling sweetly through all of them. I have tried to be that good natured all the time, but some of us are just naturally hard to get along with. Maybe someday I can make it through it all. Your friendship has been a good influence on me.
God Bless You

J. Suzanne Matlock

To Betty Gray -
You have a lot to give the world so take your time - go to college or take up a career & live life to its fullest.
May God Bless you & watch over you.

Sincerely
Gloria Jean Russell

Betty,
you're really bright and up-American than any other girl I know.
I hope you make it out in the big bad world. Just keep committed to the Lord and you will go far. I wish we could have gotten to know each other better. You seem kind of quiet, but I think you a very sweet girl. Maybe someday we'll meet again and really get to be one another better.

Best of Wishes
Charles
